PUBLIUS CORNELIUS SCIPIO AFR. CANUS was born 236 BC and died at end of 184 BC. As a very young man he distinguished himself at the battles of TRICINUS and CANNAE, and at the age of 26, still a private citizen, he was invested with proconsular imperium by the People rather than the Senate and despatched to fight the Carthaginians in Spain. There for 5 years he did brilliantly, defeated every Carthaginian army and won for Rome its two
